

Leave You Behind

©2001 Benjamin L. Schor

Heading down an open road
Walking in circles
And bearing such a heavy load
Still, my heart pulls
To somewhere in the great beyond
I have a mission
To seek for whom I've longed
By intuition

But everywhere I go
Every time I know
I must
Leave you behind.

Driving on a dream highway
But going nowhere
You beg for me to stay
Caught in the crosshairs
Of the everlasting choice
Stay or go now
Such pain runs through your voice
And still, somehow

Everywhere I go
Every time I know
I must
Leave you behind.

I tried so hard before
Ended up wanting you more
More than I should.
I might let you go
If I didn't still love you so
But it's not right anymore, no no

Standing on the edge of love
We're at the threshold
Let me go, love
Let me go, love
Let me go love
Let me go love
Leave me behind.